EMIGRATION TO CANADA.

It is announced that the tide of European emigration to this continent is now turning from this country to Canada to the extent that ships which have been in the emigrant trade from Antwerp to New York are new being transferred to Canadian points.

We are all glad to see Canada grow, but it is growing largely at our expense, when it is taking from us the emigration from Northern Europe which has always sent us immigrants of the class which clings to the soil, and of the character which makes them most easily assimilated into our body politic.

The expectation of reciprocity is sufficient to account for it. There are no shrewder people than those of Northern Europe, and none better informed, or wno more carefully consider the advantages of the different countries before deciding with which to east in their lot.

The completion of the reciprocity arrangement with Canada is probably assured. Canada has still great areas of virgin and fertile soil which can be had by settling upon it, and if the winters are long and the snows are deep, the races of Northern Europe are hardy. Rotterdam is a port which collects emigrants from many countries, but in the main they are of the Teutonic branches of our race.

To raise crops on virgin soil in Canada, where yields are large and taxation light, and sell the products in the defenseless markets of the United States, is as good a thing as the Lardy emigrant wants. He expects to get rich quick at it, and will not be disappointed.

Our blessed country is justly earning a world-wide reputation for benevolence and openhanded charity to the unfortunate, regardless of expense. We delivered Cuba, and did not charge a cent for it; benevolently assimilated the Filipinos, and returned the Boxer indemnity to China.

But nothing in this line which we have ever done can be for a moment compared to our magnificent altruism in turning over our great markets at the north.

It is all the more entrancing because our prosperous neighbor did not need such assistance, and because we can only give it by the, impoverishment of our own farmers, who must bear the cost of protection without enjoying its benefits.

It is true that our farmers do not like it, and will probably, for the most part, hereafter. vote the democratic ticket, in the hope of getting even by removing the duties from what they buy as well as from what they have to sell, but there are probably those who will consider our sacrifice all the nobler that in the greatness of our souls we are compelling our farmers to suffer whether they are willing to do so or not.

But there are probably more who will think that in so doing the American people are making asses of themselves.

UP AND AT 'EM, "TEDDY."

Reno will long remember the visit of Colonel Roosevelt, says the dispatches. In all probability the entire state of Nevada will long remember the visit, provided the former president unbuckles some of the unpleasant truths in his capable manner. Not only will the state long remember the visit but will droops its head in shame, provided the colonel sees fitand he probably will—to criticize Reno's divorce colony. Mr. Roosevelt's views on this subject are well known to the world. He is the greatest opponent of "race-suicide" and exponent of large, healthy families that the world has ever known. He is as strongly opposed to divorce as to the curtailing of the race. His views will fail to harmonize with those of the money-hungry horde of merchants who fatten off the marital derelicts.

It is to be hoped that the colonel peppers this fester-spot of Nevada and brings home to the Renoites the fact that "Renoitis" plague which today afflicts the body politic of the state of Nevada. However, even "Teddy," and his remarks, will have but little effect upon the "gang" which failed in its duty when it sent to Carson City a delegation to fight for even more liberal laws governing divorce.

Those who have dined in either camp can truly testify that the Mexican war is not without it horrors.

With most of the states in the Union passing legislation that will prohibit boxing, Colorado, seeing a good thing ahead, has a bill before the lower house to legalize the sport. A wise move, that.

THE LAST RACE RUN.

Florida is in mourning, at least that part of the population of the great southeastern state which loves the noble race horse, breathes a sigh of regret over the fact that with the great American Derby, run Saturday, the last horse race in Florida has probably been run. Moncrief, the beautiful track of Florida, will know no more the thoroughbred, the jockey, the "tout" et al. which go to make up the following of the "sport of kings." With the passing of racing in Florida there is small chance for the game to continue anywhere in the United States, Almost every state has legislated against the sport and the noble beast that has been the glory of the track in days gone by will in all probability be relegated to a "hack" or some other lowly sphere of life.

The closing of horse racing throughout the United States may be a wise proposition, but it is doubtful. The owners of strings of thoroughbreds will now be compelled to turn their faces towards foreign countries, where kings enjoy their sport. It will tend to take the breeding of these horses to foreign climes. It will take considerable money out of the country forever. All true lovers of the horse will join with Florida in her expressions of regret.

DO IT NOW.

Just three days left-Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday-and then the big meeting of the volunteer fire department is called, at which officials for the year will be elected. Prior to this meeting and election the thing for each and every business man to do is to subscribe liberally to the department. The members need the support of the citizens, the citizens need the department. It is a mutual benefit and one that should be greatly appreciated by all. Tonopah boasts of one of the best equipped, one of the best drilled volunteer departments in the entire state. The department would be a credit to any city and should not be allowed to fall into innocuous desuctude.

TIMOTHY O'CONNELL.

Timothy O'Connell has been gathered to the bosom of his Father's and the entire town of Tonopah mourns his loss, joining with the family in expressions of deepest sympathy in its hour of bereavement. Tonopah loses a conscientious and hard working citizen, a man whose watchword was "right" and whose every effort was to upbuild the community in which he lived. The All-Seeing Father has called him home and town and family alike mourn a father, husband, a citizen dead.

REAL WAR THREATENED.

According to the latest reports from the seat of bloodless war in Mexico, during the past week one thousand persons paid the life penalty in battle. Looks as though the "rebs" and "feds" are getting down to actual business and have ceased using blank cartridges. Heretofore battle after battle has been "fit" and no casualties reported, but with 1000 paying the life's sacrifice within a week considerable impetus is given to the old familiar saying of General Sherman, "War is hell."

THE DIRECT VOTE.

Albany, New York, Des Moines, Iowa and Denver are elegant examples of the indaquacy of the present system of the election of United States senators. In each state there have been deadlocks caused by the rivalry of ambitious men who seek seats in the higher house of the national government. With the direct vote for senators such conditions would become impossible and incidentally the choice of the people would represent the people.

Reno wears her "glad-rags" today in honor of "Teddy's" visit. When that gentleman gets through telling the citizens of Divorceville a few things about themselves they will probably wish they had chosen sack-cloth and ashes.

Chairman Mack of the democratic national committee has wired instructions to the Colorado democracy to break the deadlock and elect a senator. To a hot place with Mack is about what was said on receipt of the message.

Not content with the example set by Milwaukee, Berkeley, California, has elected a socialistic mayor. Experience is always necessary to explode Utopian theories.

William Tell has been sentenced to fifty days in the Reno city prison for cussing. This is not the great bow-and-arrow artist, but a colored individual.

The DuPont powder monopoly has increased its stock from $30,000,000 to $35,000,000. It is blowing the country up all the time, without mercy or truth.

Objects for the government to fire at are constantly coming forward. Here's the $30,000,-000 bread trust of New York, for instance, Wonders will never cease—at a democratic eaucus all was harmony. But then William Jennings Bryan was not on deck.

If Uncle Sam's army does invade Mexico. someone down there is going to be real good all of a sudden.
